American Repertory Ensemble Presents: Expressions Dance and Chamber Music Concert

January 12 & 13, 2007 • McCullough Theatre, UT PAC • Tickets $20/$15/$10

Austin, TX – American Repertory Ensemble (ARE), Austin’s premier Dance and Chamber Music Ensemble presents Expressions, an exquisite evening of grace and enchantment.

Expressions features 10 outstanding artists performing classic and new works by choreographers David Justin, Julia Adam, and Christopher Stowell and composers Rob Deemer, Martinu, Tchaikovsky, Vaughn Williams.

You will be amazed by returning company member Ikolo Griffin’s athleticism and finesse in Lark Ascending, a tour de force for male solo. Witness the moment of falling in love as Kathi Martuza and Artur Sultanov of Oregon Ballet Theatre are accompanied by violinist Leigh Mahoney and pianist Michelle Schumann in the most beautiful of all Swan Lake pas de deux. You won’t dare close your eyes during the Tosca String Quartet’s performance of Rob Deemer’s Speedvisions, featuring projections of paintings by acclaimed Texas artist Julie Speed.

Catch one of two performances January 12 & 13 at 8:00 pm at the McCullough Theatre, UT Performing Arts Center. Tickets are $20 general public/$15 students and seniors/$10 UT students and are available at the door, online at utpac.org or at 477-6060.

For more information about Expressions and the company, visit American Repertory Ensemble online at www.americanrepensemble.org or call (512) 762-4125.
